Update : Momentive Performance Materials Moves Silquest A-1100 & Silquest A-1110 production from US Location to Europe

Dear Valued Customer:

We would like to inform you that as of January, 2024, Momentive will service your Silquest A-1100 and Silquest A-1110 product needs with material produced at our European manufacturing site in Termoli, Italy.

Global product specifications will remain the same as the production process in Termoli Italy is the same practiced at our site in Sistersville West Virginia. However, should you want to run trials, we will have samples available from our Termoli Italy site.

Momentive's commitment to our customers remains steadfast. As such, to make this transition as smooth as possible, we will have inventory, and ship to our customers, from a US location.

Your commercial representative will contact you soon to answer any questions and further discuss.

Kind Regards,

Richard Perrin
